Gender Sensitisation Committee

Faculty of Law, University of Delhi is country's oldest protuberant legal education institution which aims to bring extremely gender equitable and gender sensitive academic space and follows zero tolerance to sexual harassment towards women.

The Gender Sensitisation Committee (GSC) of Faculty of Law is constituted:

--with aim to create awareness amongst students about the need for gender equality, and the various forms of gender-based discrimination, so that they are better equipped to deal with such cases in their personal lives as well to make their voices heard in public- speaking in unison for the rights of women

-- and committed to not only creating a gender sensitive and women friendly academic space but also spread awareness in the institution and amongst communities at large about tenets and principles of gender equality.

--and is dedicated to spread awareness, with support and cooperation of students and faculty members, by conducting workshops and seminars for all on various topics, with specific focus on laws for women's empowerment, safety, and gender equality. These workshops and seminars will bring together as panellist eminent legal experts from Bench and Bar: distinguished academicians as subject experts, and our interested students which will give us a chance to listen to different perspectives and engross with subject experts.

--to facilitate the conduct of training programs for staff- teaching as well as non-teaching and students on Prevention of Sexual Harassment at Workplace so that there is awareness about the law, its tenets and implementation. It will also conduct trainings on 'Saksham Guidelines: Measures for Ensuring Safety of Women and Programs for Gender Sensitisation on Campuses' (UGC 2013)

--to create awareness through some activities such as 'Nukkad Natak' etc. by our students volunteers.

--to work towards a gender-just and gender-equal campus.

The Gender Sensitisation Committee of the Faculty of Law is committed towards making a safe and discrimination free campus for all stakeholders and zero tolerance zone.
